

S. Hann Sons Company

THE BUSY CORNER PENN. AVENUE AT 8TH STREET

OPEN 9:15 A. M.

CLOSE 6 P. M.

ECONOMY DAY

Today, October 28

The One Day Only

—Presenting hundreds of lots of Desirable and Seasonable Merchandise Reduced in Price for this one day only. As quantities in some instances are limited Early Shopping is advised.

All merchandise purchased on a charge today placed on December 1st bill

- 25c Cotton Huck Towels, 18c
- 58c Dress Gingham, Yard, 28c
- 50c Outing Flannel, Yard, 28c
- Women's $7.50 Trimmed Hats, $3.95
- $1.25 to $1.50 Ready-Made Veils, $1.00
- 69c Home-Made Fudge, 49c lb.
- $3.98 to $5.00 Susquehanna Poplin Skirts, $2.95
- Misses' $25.00 Dresses, $14.95
- Women's $2.95 to $3.95 Percale and Gingham Dresses, $1.79
- $3.50 India Umbrellas, $2.49
- Women's $25 to $29.75 Winter Coats, $19.90
- 12½c Imitation Crochet Laces, Yard 8c
- $1.00 Boudoir Caps, 67c
- Women's $4.95 and $5.95 Crepe de Chine Blouses, $3.99
- Women's $59.75 to $75 High-grade Suits, $50.00
- $3.00 All-Wool Storm Serge, Yard, $1.59
- $1.00 Printed Satens, Yard, 79c
- $5.00 Kodak Handbags, $3.95
- $6.50 Cotton Blankets, Pair, $3.50
- Women's $5.95 to $10 Walking Oxfords, Pr., $4.95
- $3.95 Character Dolls, $2.88
- Confetti for Halloween, 2 pkgs. for 5c
- Big Sale Silks and Velvets, $1.00 to $3.00 Yd.
- 78c to 98c Curtain and Drapery Fabrics, Yard, 48c
- 6x9-ft. La Belle Rugs, $10.95 value for $3.59
- $1.00 Vanity Dresser Sets, 50c
- $2.25 Hemstitched Pillow Cases, Stamped, Pair, 98c (One pair to a person)
- Women's $1.69 Cotton Bloomers, $1.00
- $6.00 to $7.00 Nemo Corsets, Pair, $3.50
- Women's Handkerchiefs, 6 in Box; Regularly 90c, for 75c
- Women's $2.50 French Kid Gloves, Pair, $1.50
- Women's $2.00 Cotton Union Suits, $1.50
- "Seconds" Women's $2.25 "Radmoor" Silk Hose, pair, $1.00
- Children's $1.00 Pencil Boxes, 75c
- Glyco Benzoin, Glycerine and Rosewater, regularly 50c, for 25c
- 20-year Gold-filled Bar Pins, Lavallieres, etc., regularly $1 to $2, choice 59c
- Du Barry Hair Nets, regularly 15c each, doz., $1.00
- $1.69 to $2.00 Persian Bandings, Yard, $1.50
- $20.00 Natural Squirrel Chokers, $15.00
- Children's $1.95 Rompers, 88c
- Girls' $2.00 Middy Blouses, $1.39
- Single Bed Sheets, $1.85

Oh, My Stars!

HOROSCOPE,
October 28, 1920.

Jupiter and Saturn rule strongly for good today, according to astrology, thus dominating the evil power of Neptune.

The planetary government is most favorable to men in high positions and the aged should benefit by the aspect.

It is a rule under which "all who wear the robes of authority" may hope to prosper. Priests and judges should push their best interest during this way of the stars.

There is a forecast that a high dignitary of the clergy will receive a great political honor.

This is an important day for all who hold executive offices. They should meet with success in whatever they undertake while the stars are positioned as they are during this configuration.

Real estate is likely to profit largely under this configuration which seems to foreshadow extraordinary activity in certain cities.

Disturbed mental conditions may be a sign of this period, for Neptune is in an aspect that seems to preface morbid ideas and unsound opinions about the life.

Warning is given that the new moon on November 10 brings most sinister prophecies for Great Britain, for naval operations on a large scale are indicated.

The seers declare that there will be a lasting world pact for peace, but not until blood has flowed again as in rivers will it be fully and effectively.

Geniuses of many sorts are to be recognized in the United States within the next few years. It is predicted, for the stars forecast the development of extraordinary mentalities.

Persons whose birthdate is 18 have the augury of a year in which business and professional success may be expected. Litigation of any sort will be unfortunate, however.

Children born on this day will probably be extremely level-headed and persevering. Rapid success seems to be indicated for them.

Marriage Licenses

James Garfield, 48, and Alice J. Carter, 26, both of South Washington, Va. The Rev. A. S. Sayles.

Arthur F. George, 25, and Gladys R. Mann, 21, both of 111 H Street northwest. The Rev. L. B. Atkins.

Elias S. Perreys, 41, of 2021 First street northwest, and Cammie C. Lashlee, 28, of 641 Eighth street northeast. The Rev. A. E. Barrows.

Cecil R. Callis, 27, of 1361 D street southwest, and Alma I. Taylor, 18, of 524 Tenth street southwest. The Rev. J. E. Briggs.

Walter Hatcher, 22, and Pauline Brooks, 18, both of Washington. The Rev. A. H. Catlett.

Hoyt C. Scott, 22, and Margaret E. Brown, 19, both of Washington. The Rev. J. E. Ennis.

Hugh G. Boyce, 36, of 3503 T street northwest, and Sue C. Parley, 24, of 2021 Eleventh street northwest. The Rev. C. P. Sparling.

Joseph C. Minor, 27, and Estella Brooks, 22, both of Washington. The Rev. W. J. Robinson.

J. A. Smith, 45, and Hattie E. Brown, 22, both of Washington. The Rev. F. E. Pree.

Lee Taylor, 23, and Esther Dillon, 20, both of Washington. The Rev. J. A. Smith.

James H. Folson, 32, of Washington, and Kathleen Ross, 21, of Alexandria, Va. The Rev. O. E. Jones.

John Q. Schleich, 22, of Hagerstown, Md., and Calista M. Prosser, 19, of Orleans, Md. The Rev. J. F. Eckenrode.

John F. Weber, 23, of Landover, Md., and Margaret E. Schmitt, 19, of 1375 F street northeast. The Rev. C. E. Wheeler.

L. L. Diehl, 25, of Washington, and Corinne E. Hutterly, 23, of 61 R street northwest. The Rev. J. T. Huddell.

Paul Simpson, 26, and Margaret Gaines, 26, both of Washington. The Rev. W. J. Tyler.

Royal W. Bailey, 32, and Martha A. Stockton, 24, both of Washington. The Rev. W. H. Brooks.

William R. Carpenter, 24, of 460 M street southwest, and Pauline N. Hurley, 21, of 500 N street southwest. The Rev. D. C. Keenan.

G. Cleveland Schreiner, 34, of Arbutus, Ohio, and Maud Evans, 27, of Oella, Md. The Rev. P. O. Kelcher.

Horace S. Kenyon, 26, and Effie Lindquist, 26, both of George Washington Inn. The Rev. C. G. Chapell.

Charles J. Stansbury, 34, of 452 Maryland avenue southwest, and Laura E. Gillette, 24, of Lorraine, N. Y. The Rev. C. E. Fultz.

N. Phillip Clatterback, 24, of Rockersville, Va., and Sade E. Murray, 24, of Washington. The Rev. J. E. Horstkamp.

Adelbert E. Hillman, 48, of New-castle, Pa., and Mildred Corey, 38, of Sanex Lake, Pa. The Rev. C. Wood.

Lemuel T. Groves, 30, and Ruby M. Franklin, 28, both of Rio Vista, Va. The Rev. J. E. Briggs.

Gustav Sonnsen, 23, of 1404 Eleventh street northwest, and Pearl V. Dudley, 22, of 204 F street northeast. The Rev. J. H. Jeffries.

George Roebuck, 24, and Lillian Shepard, 21, both of Washington. The Rev. A. J. Tyler.

George W. Merritt, 32, and Nanie Bradley, 22, both of Washington. The Rev. W. D. Battle.

~have Resinol ready for scalds and burns

The tormenting, insistent pain of a burn or scald is quickly subdued by Resinol Ointment. Its cooling ingredients remove the inflammation, and hasten the healing. Cover the burn with Resinol and bandage with gauze. In severe burns or scalds covering a large surface always send for a doctor.

(Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

WOMAN'S "CABINET" HOLDS FIRST GET-TOGETHER SESSION

OFFICERS HOLD FIRST MEETING

Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams, the first woman to receive appointment as Assistant Attorney General. Included among her duties are the important items of national taxation and regulation of commerce.

Mrs. Frances C. Axtell, the first woman to be appointed chairman of the United States Employees Compensation Commission. Her work has been one of the big factors in obtaining increased pay for Federal employees.

Miss Kathryn Sellers, the first woman to be appointed judge of the Juvenile Court of the District of Columbia. She conducts one of the most successful children's courts in the United States.

Mrs. Clara Sears Taylor, the first woman to be named Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She has been called "downright hero" for solving the housing problem of the Capital and has rendered hundreds of decisions.

Miss Mary Anderson, first woman director of the new Woman's Bureau of the Department of Labor, who has done much to better the conditions under which women should be employed in industry.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, the first woman to be named director of the Civil Service Commission. Her official duties include joint directorship of the vast army of 700,000 government employees.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, the first woman to be made Commissioner of the District of Columbia. She is one of the first Commissioners to advocate representation in Congress for Washington.

The Marriage Mill

By Mildred K. Barbour
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

PEACE IS ROUTED AGAIN.

Osborne's startled glance amused Alison.

She enjoyed the sensation which her careless statement regarding unhappy wives was creating. Further, she was prepared to back it up. Truth to tell, she was relishing this "peace-conference" dinner of theirs far more than she had anticipated.

Nothing is so awkward as a plain discussion of differences, recriminations, promises and forgiveness, even between two people who are not supposed to have outlived the first flush of the honeymoon. "Mak-ing up" had been a fascinating process at first when they had lived with the Osborne family and had engaged in small clashes of smaller moment, but of late the quarrels had been too frequent to be pleasant.

So the turn the interview was taking was quite to Alison's liking, and Larry himself seemed flatteringly interested. Indeed, so en-grossed were they in each other that the waiter left them discreetly alone after serving the coffee, and the other diners at the table looked toward them with smiling, sympathetic or envious glances according to the state of their own hearts.

"You've made a wide statement," Larry reminded Alison. "It would be called 'downright heroism' in Maplewood. Do you actually mean that the calm poised matrons of our exemplary little village are really seething volcanoes beneath the surface? Oh, come, Alison, you're only theorizing."

She shrugged, pouring a lump of sugar over her demitasse.

"Perhaps—but it's logical. Do you know, Larry, that it's a woman's inalienable instinct to want to attract men? If it isn't her own sweetheart or husband, it's somebody else's sweetheart or husband. But once she's married and her husband settles down like a sack of meal, and there's absolutely no use wearing pretty frocks or thinking up cunning things to say, or coquetting with him, because the house is hers, or her, or any other woman, and she doesn't have to hold him against poisoning females, she's bored to death with life. So she does one of three things: Either she develops into a frump with a mind like a pin cushion; or she takes up reforms and charities and new religions; or she goes out to vamp other men. You see, Alison, you're only theorizing."

"Good work! What book did you read in?"

Alison pouted.

"There! You're proving my contention right now. If I weren't married to each other, you would have said: 'How clever you are! As it is, you laugh at me, just as you would laugh if I tried any alluring little tricks on you. You see, Larry, a woman just can't flirt with her own husband, and if he's absolutely faithful to her, there is no need of her exercising her attractions to hold him. Voila!'" she added, with a gesture of her right hands.

Larry smiled amusedly.

"You admit then that I am absolutely faithful to you?"

"I don't believe I care whether you are or not," she answered with pique.

His eyes narrowed suddenly.

"You're quite sure of that?"

"Quite," she returned impatiently.

"Why?"

"Merely by way of reassurance. He answered airily. "Want some mint or bonbons?"

"She shook her head."

"I'm getting a kicking with this place. Can't we go somewhere gay?"

He raised questioning brows.

"It was your suggestion that we come here."

"For Heaven's sake, Larry, do get away from this 'I-told-you-so' attitude that you always take toward me," she cried.

"Lord, Alison, can't one ever—"

He broke off suddenly, and they stared into each other's eyes.

As a peace-conference the dinner had been a failure.

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

mentary French Club follows from 8:30 to 9:30; the Domestic Art Club holds a sewing and baking session from 7:30 to 9:30; Gregg shorthand from 7:30 to 9:30; Gregg dictation and speed practice from 8:30 to 9:30.

The community spirit has been fanned by the Southeast Community Center, Tyler School, by the unique feature of a country dance, under the supervision of Miss Nellie Bell, president of the Tyler Danc-ing Club. This club meets on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock. The old-fashioned quadrilles have attracted the Southeast Community neighborhood like a magnet, and sixty couples took part in the last social evening.

The community spirit has been fanned by the Southeast Community Center, Tyler School, by the unique feature of a country dance, under the supervision of Miss Nellie Bell, president of the Tyler Danc-ing Club. This club meets on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock. The old-fashioned quadrilles have attracted the Southeast Community neighborhood like a magnet, and sixty couples took part in the last social evening.

The community spirit has been fanned by the Southeast Community Center, Tyler School, by the unique feature of a country dance, under the supervision of Miss Nellie Bell, president of the Tyler Danc-ing Club. This club meets on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock. The old-fashioned quadrilles have attracted the Southeast Community neighborhood like a magnet, and sixty couples took part in the last social evening.

The community spirit has been fanned by the Southeast Community Center, Tyler School, by the unique feature of a country dance, under the supervision of Miss Nellie Bell, president of the Tyler Danc-ing Club. This club meets on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock. The old-fashioned quadrilles have attracted the Southeast Community neighborhood like a magnet, and sixty couples took part in the last social evening.

The community spirit has been fanned by the Southeast Community Center, Tyler School, by the unique feature of a country dance, under the supervision of Miss Nellie Bell, president of the Tyler Danc-ing Club. This club meets on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock. The old-fashioned quadrilles have attracted the Southeast Community neighborhood like a magnet, and sixty couples took part in the last social evening.

The community spirit has been fanned by the Southeast Community Center, Tyler School, by the unique feature of a country dance, under the supervision of Miss Nellie Bell, president of the Tyler Danc-ing Club. This club meets on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock. The old-fashioned quadrilles have attracted the Southeast Community neighborhood like a magnet, and sixty couples took part in the last social evening.

The community spirit has been fanned by the Southeast Community Center, Tyler School, by the unique feature of a country dance, under the supervision of Miss Nellie Bell, president of the Tyler Danc-ing Club. This club meets on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock. The old-fashioned quadrilles have attracted the Southeast Community neighborhood like a magnet, and sixty couples took part in the last social evening.

The community spirit has been fanned by the Southeast Community Center, Tyler School, by the unique feature of a country dance, under the supervision of Miss Nellie Bell, president of the Tyler Danc-ing Club. This club meets on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock. The old-fashioned quadrilles have attracted the Southeast Community neighborhood like a magnet, and sixty couples took part in the last social evening.

The community spirit has been fanned by the Southeast Community Center, Tyler School, by the unique feature of a country dance, under the supervision of Miss Nellie Bell, president of the Tyler Danc-ing Club. This club meets on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock. The old-fashioned quadrilles have attracted the Southeast Community neighborhood like a magnet, and sixty couples took part in the last social evening.

The community spirit has been fanned by the Southeast Community Center, Tyler School, by the